We developed the 2019 Annual Salary Guide for Accounting and Finance as a resource for our clients. Given fluctuating employment trends and a competitive, candidate-driven job market, it is essential that hiring managers and decision makers stay up-to-date and informed to attract, recruit, and retain top talent.

Trends in the Accounting and Finance Industry

As of April 2018, the unemployment rate for the accounting and finance sector was as low as 1.6% according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. This has a direct impact on employers looking to recruit and retain accounting and financial professionals.

Competitive & Quick Offers  Employers must offer generous competitive salaries and avoid a long hiring process in order to land skilled professionals.	Retention  With talented employees difficult to find, companies are investing in employee retention, which includes salary and work/life adjustments.	Focus on Critical Skills  With a tight talent market, companies are relaxing requirements, hiring for critical skills and providing training for the rest.
Corporate Culture  Telecommuting, flex schedule, and discounted gym memberships speak to a company's culture—and can be a strategic selling point for candidates.	Accounting & Technology Standards  With new accounting and technology standards, firms need employees with experience in revenue accounting/reporting and SEC reporting.	Contingent Workforce  Many businesses are relying on interim professionals for projects that require specialized knowledge.

About the Data in this Guide

The data in the 2019 Annual Salary Guide are based on national averages. However, the figures included in this guide have been multiplied by a 113.45% variance for Washington, DC. Please note that salary levels can be affected by many factors including company size, benefits offered, location, educational requirements, and local supply/demand trends.
